Illumination by the Spirit is the endless end of every virtue.
Saint Symeon the New Theologian

"I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit; for without Me you can do nothing." John 15: 5

This familiar metaphor of the vine and the branches in the New Testament illustrates the intrinsic interconnectedness between Christ and his believers. Our Lord uses the illustration of the vine and the branches to show what it means to abide in Him and helps teach us the perfection of our union with the Lord.

The union between the vine and the branch is so close that each is nothing without the other. Each is entirely and only for the other. Without the vine the branch can do nothing. The vine is the source and sustenance of life for the branches, and the branches must abide in the vine to live and bear fruit. Just as the branch fulfills its purpose for being in union with the vine, so a Christian can only fulfill their responsibility in their eternal union with Christ by remaining in consistent fellowship with the Lord. Just as sap flows from the vine through its branches, so the Holy Spirit flows through the soul of the believer that remains in fellowship with Christ.

The metaphor of comparing people to vines and vineyards is not a new concept. The Old Testament frequently refers to Israel as being a vine that God planted. "You removed a vineyard from Egypt; you cast out the nations and planted it..." (Psalm 79 (80):9). This verse refers to how God brought Israel out of Egypt and planted it in the promised land. Many of the Prophets also likened Israel to a vine or vineyard. Hosea described Israel's increased prosperity in the following manner: "Israel is a luxuriant vine; her fruit is abundant" (Hosea 10:1).

But the Prophets also warned the people of Israel that they had lost their way; that they were in danger of losing their connection to God. Hosea warned: "They have divided their hearts; now shall they be utterly destroyed..." (Hosea 10:1-2). A similar warning was also proclaimed by Isaiah: "There was a vineyard for My Beloved, a place of power and richness... He planted it with the choicest vine... so I waited for it to bring forth grapes, but it produced thorn-plants." (Isaiah 5:1-2). Jeremiah echoed a parallel exhortation stating: "I planted a fruitful vine for you, one most healthy and sweet, yet you turned it into a vine unknown to Me, with a taste of bitterness" (Jeremiah 2:21).

In fact, often when the prophets made reference to the vine or vineyard, they had in mind the imminent judgment that God would bring upon his disobedient people. "Therefore thus says the Lord God: Like the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so I will give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem" (Ezekiel 15:6). According to Saint Jerome, "having good shoots and fruit-bearing branches, she (Israel) produced many clusters, and the abundance of the grapes equaled the great number of the branches. But she, who before was of such a kind, offended God afterward, turning the abundance of the fruits into a great number of offenses."

When Christ then tells the Parable of the Wicked Vineyard Tenants (Luke 20:9-16; Matthew 21:33-46; Mark 12:1-12) he is referencing these unheeded warnings. Each servant sent by the owner of the vineyard (God) to the vinedressers (leaders of the Jews) so that 'they might give him some of the fruit of the vineyard' represented the Old Testament Prophets who were sent to call the people back to God but were ignored; some were beaten, treated shamefully, wounded and others killed.

"I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. Every branch in Me that does not bear fruit He takes away; and every branch that bears fruit He prunes, that it may bear more fruit" (John 15:1-2).

In contrast to disobedient and unfruitful Israel, our Lord calls Himself the true (ἀληθινός) vine, which together with the branches constitute a new and fruitful people of God: the Church.

To abide in this vine is to abide in Christ and His Church. The figure of the vine and the branches show that our union with Christ is intimate and real; life flows from the vine to the branches. Abiding in Christ is both dynamic and vitalizing. The fruit that we bear as Christians describes the outward actions that result from the inward condition of a person's heart through our connection to God: "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control..." (Galatians 5:22). When we are connected and intentional about our relationship with God, we produce the fruit God cultivates within us.

The challenge in the Old Covenant (Old Testament) and the New is the same – people forsaking God. We too, are called to heed the warnings of the prophets – and steady ourselves firmly in faith. We must protect ourselves against the corruption that comes from greed, vanity, dishonesty, conceit and the love of pleasure. We must caution ourselves to not become indifferent to God; even mocking Him, by rejecting His law and commandments. We must be careful to not separate ourselves from God and thus wither away.

On the contrary, we must open our hearts to hear the invitation of Christ and become rooted in His Love. For one cannot love God and disobey His commandments (John 15:14). Only when we love Him can we be truly connected to God and present ourselves as a healthy vine producing sweet fruit.

This is not an easy step – and it takes constant pruning of our own behaviors to make sure that our connection to God remains strong. The Church recognizes this and is often praying for God to bless the people of His vineyard. During the celebration of a Hierarchical Divine Liturgy, the bishop prays that the Lord will visit and confirm the vineyard - the local body of the Church - as he blesses the faithful: "look down from heaven and behold, and visit this vineyard which Your right hand planted and perfect it" (Psalm 79 (80):15-16).

The Church in every generation participates in the life and glory of the Holy Trinity. Christians enjoy two kinds of unity: with God and with one another, the latter being rooted in the former.

The ultimate goal of Christ's prayer, and indeed of life itself, is for the love of the Father to dwell in each of us (John 17:20-26). This is the perfection of our faith – Theosis. The Church seeks to provide us with opportunities to grow in the knowledge of God through its worship, fellowship, service and witness.

May our Lord continue to invigorate us and may we find the determination, courage and endurance to hear and follow His call to truly Abide in Him.

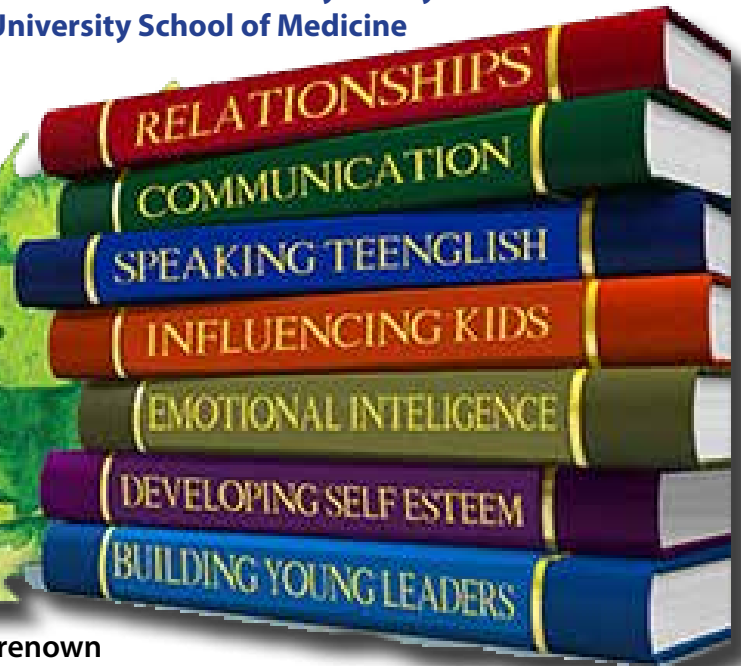

Father Peter

Orthodox Youth Mission Team 2020

Since 2012 members of the Saint Barbara GOYA have participated in the Applachain Service Project with other Orthodox Churches under the leadership of Rev. Luke Mihaly from Holy Trinity Orthodox Church in Danbury. Participants train for six months in preparation for the trip by participating in scripture study, sensitivity instruction, and construction and safety skills, preparing for the opportunity to put their faith to work serving others.

Last summer, over 70 Orthodox youth and adult leaders from seven States representing the American Carpatho Russian Orthodox Diocese, the Orthodox Church in America and Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, joined forces to assist families in Appalachia make their homes warmer, drier and safer.

This year's group promises to be even bigger with 19 teenagers and 2 adult supervisors from Saint Barbara participating in the trip that will take place from July 11-19, 2020.

The group asks for our prayers and support.

So per Bowl of Caring

On Sunday, February 2, millions of Americans will tune in to the Super Bowl and enjoy celebrations with an abundance of food and fellowship. At the same time, too many people in our community will go to bed hungry or worry about how to make ends meet to care for their families. During the biggest weekend of football, let's score a touchdown for the homeless and hungry in our community.

This year, the Saint Barbara Parish will once again take a special collection following the Divine Liturgy on February 2 to support the work of the Beth-El Center shelter and soup kitchen in Milford, CT.
